By Susan Glass and Aaron Fuegi

The full album title is “The Tortured Poets Department” and the puzzle idea is suggested by interpreting the Tortured Poets part as a cryptic clue for anagramming a poet’s name. We actually do a transaddition (add a letter and anagram) from each poet’s last name to a word clued under each picture. A short piece of well-known poetry by each poet is also included. The ordering is gotten by pairing up the 18 images with the given 18 song titles from Taylor Swift’s album. When all of this is put together as shown in the table below, it clues PAPER RINGS LINE FOUR. The fourth line of Taylor Swift’s song Paper Rings is “Now I’ve read all of the books beside your bed” and solvers can find the next puzzle amongst a stack of poetry books beside one of the beds in the house.

The poets who wrote the “INSPIRATIONS”, given in alphabetical order mostly by last name, are: Maya Angelou, WH Auden, Dante Alighieri, John Donne, TS Eliot, Robert Frost, Homer, John Keats, John Milton, Ogden Nash, Pablo Neruda, Rumi, Dr. Seuss, Dylan Thomas, Oscar Wilde, and William Butler Yeats.

The pictures, in order reading left-to-right, top to-bottom, clue the tracks: The Tortured Poets Department, I Can Fix Him (No Really I Can), Fresh Out the Slammer, The Smallest Man Who Ever Lived, The Alchemy, Guilty as Sin?, Florida!!! (featuring Florence and the Machine), Down Bad, Clara Bow, But Daddy I Love Him, My Boy Only Breaks His Favorite Toys, The Manuscript, Fortnight (featuring Post Malone), “So Long, London”, lomi, The Bolter, Who’s Afraid of Little Old me?, and I Can Do It with a Broken Heart.
